

The Valentine Post

WILL YOU BE MY VALENTINE?

About me

Who would have known that making the decision to agree to dance with you would have led us here 8 years later? Through all our ups and downs, we are always together and I couldn't find someone as perfect as you. You are the love of my life and I am very happy when I am with you. Thank you for all the love you give and I promise to always make you happy my queen ❤️

14
FEB

One more Valentine's Day
by your side

In case you don't remember...

I am the only person who will love you above all things, I was and will always be here to take care of you and give you all my love, thank you for being part of my story. I wish you the best in life my queen and may this be the beginning of new adventures together